2. Ensure that Ancillary Dwellings are subservient to the primary dwelling.
3. Protect against increase in residential density and ad hoc fragmentation of land by ensuring that development does not encourage future subdivision.

Definitions

Self-contained - means a dwelling that includes bathroom, kitchen and laundry facilities in accordance the Building Code of Australia.

Exceptional Circumstance – factors or circumstances that are out of the ordinary or uncommon which prevent compliance with the design requirements of this policy. These include but are not limited to Medical/Health requirements (evidence required) but do not include lifestyle choices or hobbies.

Background

1. The Shire of Serpentine Jarrahdale's Strategic Community Plan aims to respond to the changing demographics and housing needs of the community. An Ancillary Dwelling can provide housing diversity, choice and affordability and is often vital to accommodate older members of the community to 'age in place' and be supported by their existing community.
2. Ancillary Dwellings are commonly used throughout the Shire. State Planning Policy 7.3 - Residential Design Codes (R-Codes) provides for the development of Ancillary Dwellings in urban and residential zoned areas of the Shire, however no such provisions exist for rural and semi-rural areas. This Policy sets provisions for the development of an Ancillary Dwelling in rural and semi-rural areas in the Shire which are responsive to a rural context.
